

Acc. m. g. -n instead of -an; and hvert inserts j, when the ending begins with the vowels a or u, as:

Acc. hvert, hvern, hverja;

Dat. hverju, hverjum, hverri.

The Skalds use in Acc. m. g. hverjan, every one.

Declension of hvort (hvort):

	Neut.	Masc.	Fem.	Neut.	Masc.	Fem.
Sing. Nom.	hvort	hvorr	hvor	hvert	hverr	hver
Acc.	hvort	hvorn	hvora	hvert	hverjan	hverja

Plur. Nom.	hvor	hvorir	hvorar	hver	hverir	hverjar

109. There is also in the old norsk language a separate form for the interrogative pronoun what; it is thus declined:

	Neuter g.	Common g.
Sing. Nom.	hvat	hverr (hvarr)
Acc.	hvat	hvern (hvarn)
Dat.	hvi	hveim
Gen.	hves	hves;

in common speech hvat is only used as a pron. and hvi, as an adjective.

110. The indefinite pronoun is partly primitive, partly derived from other interr. pron. Primitive is:

eitt, einn, ein, one, each one, alone; sometimes it is declined like vænt (94) except that nt in n. g. takes tt, and that the Acc. m. g. has a double form as:

einn and einan.

111. Annat (aliud, alterum, secundum) the one, the second, another,

has a very irregular declension, thus:

	N.	M.	F.
Sing. Nom.	annat	annarr	önnur
Acc.	annat	annan	aðra
Dat.	öðru	öðrum	annarri
Gen.	annars	annars	annarrar
